Subject: Request for member's inputs on strategic locations for additional plastic parks in India

Dear Sir / Madam,

Greetings from Plexconcil!

As you are aware that the Government of India, through the Department of Chemicals and Petrochemicals, Ministry of Chemicals & Fertilizers, has been actively developing Plastic Parks across the country since 2012.

Plastic Parks are dedicated zones or clusters that provide a comprehensive infrastructure and facilities for the entire plastic industry supply chain. These parks aim to create a conducive environment for the manufacturing, processing, and recycling of plastic products. They typically house various units involved in the production of raw materials, plastic processing, recycling, and other related activities.

Some existing plastic parks in India include:

In a recent meeting held under the chairmanship of Shri. Santosh Kumar Sarangi, IAS, Additional Secretary, DGFT, the Vice-Chairman of PLEXCONCIL highlighted the need of more plastic parks across the country. On this request, the chair mentioned that while India does have quite a few existing plastic parks, not many of them have been successful. Hence, he requested PLEXCONCIL to identify appropriate locations for additional plastic parks.

Given the above context, we seek your valuable inputs in identifying strategic locations along with the justifications for these additional plastic parks.

Members are requested to submit their response no later than 17th January, 2024 to niyati@plexconcil.org.

Sincerely,

Sribash Dasmohapatra
